Updates from the Chapter President

Anthony Sochet, MD, MSc, FAAP

On behalf of the Society of Critical Care Medicine Florida Chapter Board of Directors, we look forward to an upcoming year of engagement and opportunity throughout the state. With the cancellation of the 51st Annual Congress in Puerto Rico this February, we have moved to reschedule our Annual Business meeting to correspond with the rescheduled Virtual Congress. The annual business meeting will now occur virtually on April 14, 2022, at 3:00 PM. At that time, we hope to introduce you to the Board and committee chairs. This is a great opportunity to hear the ways to get involved in your local critical care community. We hope to hear from you during Virtual Congress as in the previous year!

This summer (August-September), our Chapter will be hosting the SCCM Multidisciplinary Critical Care Review (MCCR) courses. The adult course will occur in Orlando, Florida, at Orlando Regional Medical Center September 9-10, 2022. The pediatric course will occur in St. Petersburg, Florida, at Johns Hopkins All Children's Hospital. The two-day course, CME, travel options, general information, and registration will be updated in March (<https://www.sccm.org/Education-Center/Educational-Programming/Multiprofessional-Critical-Care-Review>). The Florida Chapter Annual Symposium, rescheduled from the previous year, will take place in October of 2022 with a mixed platform to accommodate members and participants with institutional or personal travel restrictions. This includes opportunities from members to submit their own research for spotlight presentations. Registration, lodging, vendors, and other general information will soon be available as the Annual Symposium Planning Committee gets underway.

Even amidst COVID-19, Omicron and Delta variant-related restrictions, we have worked hard to invigorate our presence on social media platforms and restructure our regional Florida networks. With some lifting of restrictions, our goals are to establish smaller networking events near or in your communities around our state. We hope to see you at our monthly Educational Webinars including our alternating Educational and Scholarship in Progress Webinars (upcoming date: April 8th). Please allow us to highlight you or your achievements via our SCCM Florida Chapter Membership Monday. Please reach out to us on Facebook (@FLChapterSCCM), Twitter (@ScmFL), LinkedIn, or via email FLChapterSCCM@gmail.com. We look forward to seeing and meeting you at our Annual meeting, MCCR course, and other events. Cheers,

Tony Sochet

The Education Committee maintains its commitment to provide critical care education for members of the SCCM Florida Chapter. Unfortunately, the Webinar which had been scheduled for March 8, 2022, had to be cancelled due to a personal conflict on that date. The education committee is hosting the next Webinar on May 10, 2022. For the cycle starting July 2022, the new Chair of the Education Committee will be Marcia Johansson and the Chair-Elect will be Christian Guzman. If you would like to become involved with the Education Committee, please contact Radhames at radhamesramos73@gmail.com.

Fundraising/Marketing Committee

Marlena Fox, PharmD, BCPS, BCCCP

The Fundraising/Marketing Committee has significantly increased the presence of SCCM Florida Chapter on social media over the past year. We have been using Facebook (@FLChapterSCCM), Twitter (@SccmFI), and LinkedIn, in addition to SCCM Connect, to advertise our upcoming events, highlight our members, and bring awareness to critical care related events. Please make sure you are all following our social media accounts and feel free to reach out to us so that we can follow you as well! For pharmacy week and respiratory care week, we raffled off a Florida Chapter Jacket to encourage engagement within the Chapter. Additionally, we are going to be working on further enhancing our website and adding an online store for SCCM Florida Chapter merchandise in the upcoming months. Check it out ->->-> www.floridasccm.com. We will be distributing Florida Chapter Tervis cups to all current members in the upcoming months as a way to thank you for your participation in our chapter! Please reach out to Marlena.Fox@orlandohealth.com if you are interested in joining the fundraising and marketing committee!
